Starting at 4.30 pm, registration and light refreshments from 4.00 pm

The seminar is expected to end by 6.00 pm and will be followed by drinks and canapés.

The Community Registered Design regime is now sufficiently mature for a useful body of case law to have accumulated from decisions of the OHIM appeal process and the UK and European courts. The seminar will review the issue of the scope of Community designs with reference to some of these decisions. This review will be complemented by an in-depth look at the 'Laundry Balls' case by one of the barristers involved.
